A very atypical sightseeing tour of Krakow: follow the footsteps of famous women who used to live in Krakow! From the very beginning living as a woman in Krakow wasn't that lovely and colourful. According to the most famous legend the most beautiful women of the town must have been sacrificed every day to the dragon beast that consumed them for his lunch! In the medieval times the first female student had to dress as a boy in order to participate in the classes at the Jagiellonian University! Krakow's the most popular worldwide women are definitely Wislawa Szymborska, the Nobel Prize winning poet and Helena Rubinstein, the founder of one of the most luxurious cosmetic company. Today you will explore Krakow on the footsteps of the most successful women of the city!

The Wieliczka Salt Mine

Breakfast at the hotel.

At the morning we will definitely encourage you to go to Kazimierz, the Jewish quarter, where you can sit and sip a delicious organic coffee, eat a home-made hamburger with fresh meat and fresh vegetables and do shopping in small vintage shops, where young Krakow designers sell their clothes, accessories, shoes etc. Definitely a must for everyone who wants to feel the real spirit of the city.

15.30

After the fascinating morning and early noon you can go to the one of the most famous places in the world! Yes, you will visit the oldest Salt Mine in Europe! Transfer to Wieliczka (or transfer back to the hotel, because it is possible to visit Wieliczka on the next day).

16.00

The two-kilometre Tourist Route in Wieliczka includes 22 chambers connected by galleries. A licensed, English-speaking guide will show you the ancient shafts, mysterious salt lakes, a collection of mining machines and equipment, sculptures, bas-reliefs, and the most impressive and opulent St. Kinga's chapel. Wieliczka is also known for its healing treatments. In the Salt Mine there is always 14 Celsius degrees and there is a microclimate that is heavily laden with sodium chloride, magnesium and calcium ions. The air is bacteriologically pure. The salt excavations create a “natural inhalator” which helps to strengthen the immune system and increase oxygen intake.

In 1978 Wieliczka Salt Mine was entered on the first UNESCO World List of Cultural and Natural Heritage.
